

5/26/1979

SRP reported to HLRP the story ^{learned from EAG} about Louisa Griswold's death — she was out in the garden picking rhubarb; she came into the house with a large armful of rhubarb and died.

HLRP said: "Aunt Edna was out in the garden picking rhubarb, and as she was coming in the house, she fell and broke her arm. She was in Detroit at the time."